Bespoke Collections

Creating bespoke Jesmonite collections for weddings, hospitality, interiors and meaningful spaces.

Every piece is individually handcrafted in our studio using Jesmonite, a durable, water-based composite chosen for its beautiful finish and versatility. No two commissions are ever the same, making every collection as unique as the people and spaces it is created for.

1. Designed Around Your Vision

At NomiStone, we believe every space, celebration and brand deserves something truly unique.

Our bespoke collections are thoughtfully handcrafted using Jesmonite and designed to complement your vision, whether you're creating memorable wedding details, elevating a hospitality space or styling a beautiful interior.

Every commission is thoughtfully tailored to complement your chosen colour palette, interior style or event aesthetic, resulting in timeless pieces that are as functional as they are beautiful.

Whether you're commissioning a single statement piece or a collection for multiple guests, rooms or spaces, every project receives the same care and attention to detail.

We work closely with every client throughout the design process to ensure each collection reflects their vision and intended space.

5. Looking For Something Different?

Every commission is bespoke. If you have an idea, we'd love to hear it and explore how we can bring it to life.

We also welcome enquiries from boutiques, retailers and stockists interested in handcrafted Jesmonite collections.

6. Our Process

6.1 Share Your Vision

Tell us about your project, inspiration, colours and ideas. We'll take the time to understand your requirements before recommending the best approach.

6.2 Design & Proposal

We'll discuss your requirements and prepare a bespoke proposal tailored to your project, including design ideas, quantities and timescales.

6.3 Handcrafting

Every piece is carefully handcrafted in our studio using Jesmonite and finished with attention to detail before undergoing quality checks.

6.4 Delivery

Your completed collection is carefully packaged and delivered ready for your event, business or space.

7. Let's Create Something Beautiful

Whether you're planning a wedding, styling a hospitality space, designing an interior, creating a calming wellness environment or searching for meaningful gifts, we'd love to help bring your vision to life.
